

1702 Iowa Street Davenport, IA 52803 A Congregation of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.)

December 24, 2021 Christmas Eve Children's Christmas Pageant Worship at 4:00 p.m.

Welcome!

We are an open and affirming congregation, and a proud member of the Covenant Network of Presbyterians (covnetpres.org).

People of all sexual orientations and gender identities are welcome here, along with their families.

We are a Matthew 25 church

MATTHEW 25

Matthew 25 congregations identify themselves as working toward one or more of three goals: building congregational vitality, dismantling structural racism and eradicating systemic poverty.

SCRIPTURE FOR MEDITATION

"Do not be afraid; for see – I bring you good news of great joy for all people: to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is the Messiah, the Lord."

- Luke 2: 10-11

Filippo Lippi (c. 1406-1469), Adoration of the Child in the Forest. Gemäldegalerie, Berlin.

Preparation for Worship

We invite you to meditate silently on art, music and Scripture.

*Worshipers who are able, please stand. Bold indicates congregational response.

Lighting of the Christ Candle

The Children

Reader 1

adapted from Rev. Elissa Bailey, who adapted from Spill the Beans

We have lit these Advent Candles to remind us of God's promise to send a Savior.

On this Christmas Eve, we light the Christ Candle. Christ is the True Light who brings light to all people.

We are called to carry the light into the world.

Reader 2

Let us pray: O God of Light, you illuminate every corner of the world.

Thank you for sending Jesus, light of the world, who shows us how much you love us.

Offering Our Gifts and Lives to God

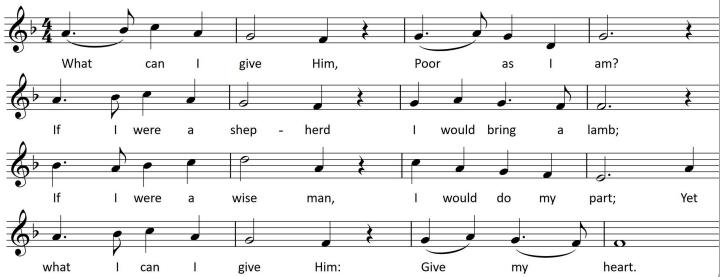

Lord Jesus, you are amazing and You love us so much. Thank you for Christmas, for the Christmas story, for carols, for decorations, for cookies, and presents. Christmas gives us so many good things, but the best one is You! You bring us so much every day. Remind us to give our best back to you. Amen.

In dulci jubilo, BWV 608

The Chancel Guild wishes to thank all those who through their donations made it possible to beautify the sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church this Christmas Season.

When the world was dark and the city was quiet, you came. You crept in beside us, and no one knew, only the few who dared to believe that God might do something different.

Will you come into the darkness of tonight's world not the friendly darkness as when sleep rescues us from tiredness, but the fearful darkness, in which people have stopped believing:
that war will end
or that food will come or that a government will change or that the Church cares?

Will you come into that darkness and do something different to save your people from death and despair?
Will you come into the quietness of this town not the friendly quietness as when lovers hold hands, but the fearful silence when:
the phone has not rung

the phone has not rung the letter has not come, the friendly voice no longer speaks, the doctor's face says it all?

Will you do the same this Christmas, Lord?

Will you come into that darkness and do something different not to distract, but to embrace your people?

Will you come into the dark corners and the quiet places of our lives?

We ask this not because we are guilt-ridden or want to be, but because the fullness of our lives longs for, depends upon, our being: as open and vulnerable as you were to us when you came wearing no more than diapers and trusting human hands to hold their maker.

Will you come into our lives if we open them to you and do something different?

When the world was dark and the city was quiet, you came. You crept in beside us.

Do the same this Christmas, Lord. Do the same this Christmas.

Amen.
